INFO Italy | 2020 | 90'

A comedy between laughter and a bitter portrait of the new reality we are all facing.

Two couples, from different social classes, are both in the edge of breaking up, but will be both forced to keep living under the same roof, due to the lockdown. Although confined in their own apartments, the stories of these two couples will unexpectedly intertwine.

A pure "Italian Style" comedy, which anyway portrays couples who could nowadays live in any part of the world.
